WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

There will be elections to-morrow in all the towns in this county outside of the cities of Yonkers and Mount Vernon. It is what may be called an off year, as the highest officer to be elected in any of the towns is Justice of the Peace, except in New-Castle, where a Supervisor is to be chosen and where the Republican candidate and present incumbent, Israel A. Haight, has no opposition. In Bedford both parties have indorsed William B. Adams for Justice of the Peace, and in Ossining there are three tickets in the field-the regular Republicans, who represent the Burns-Fairchild wing of the party, have nominated Alonzo S. McNeal for Justice: Independent, or Robertson-Husted Republicans, whose ticket is headed by John A. Aitchison, and the Democratic ticket, headed by Pierre Reynolds. Several towns failed to vote on the question and the Democratic ticket, headed by Pierre Reynolds. Several towns failed to vote on the question of granting licenses under the provisions of the Raines Liquor Tax law last year, and the matter comes up for settlement at this election. Strenucus efforts are being made in Greenburg. Mount Pleasant and Bedford to prevent the issuing of licenses in those towns.

Politically, the results of Tuesday's election will have little or no significance, as a great many local issues have been mixed up in the contests in the several towns, and sides have been taken without much regard for party lines. At the same time the general inclination of the people of the county is toward the Republican party, and wherever there are no doubts expressed that the Republican candidates will be elected.

Special sermons were preached Sunday night in two of the churches of this village to local societies. At the Presbyterian Church the Junior Order of United American Mechanics listened to an address delivered by the Rev. James A. McWilliams, and in St. Paul's Eniscopal Church the rector, the Rev. Dr. C. M. Miles, preached to Osshing Council, Royal Arcanum. In both instances the societies turned out in full ranks and were deeply interested in the remarks addressed to them.

Collector A. S. McNeal will hold his first slitting for the collection of town taxes to-day at the corporation rooms. It is stated that the Village Trustees, who are opposed to issuing the certificate of indebtwiness for $5.000 authorized by the old Board, are willing to compromise by issuing a certificate for 16 debtwiness for $5.000 authorized by the old Board, are willing to compromise by issuing a certificate for 16 debtwiness for $5.000 authorized by the old Board, are willing to compromise by issuing a certificate of indebtwiness for $5.000 authorized by the old Board, are willing to compromise by issuing a certificate for 16 debtwiness for $5.000 authorized by the old Board, are willing to compromise by issuing a certificate for 18.000 authorized by the old Bo

Basket-ball enthusiasts were out in force Saturday night at the armory of the 4th Separate Company in Waverly-st, to witness a game between the 19th Separate Company of Poughkeepsic and the local guardsmen. Mr. Dillon, of New-York City, was heard several times in witty recitations; Mr. Chamberlain, solo tenor of the Warburton Avenue Baptist Church, and William O'Mara, were heard in solos. A pleasant feature of the evening was a surprise for "Dick" Brown and "Lou" was a surprise for "Dick" Brown and "Lou" Gillens, of the 19th Separate Company. Each received a gold-headed cane from the Rooters' Club, in token of its appreciation of the many courtestes extended by them on occasions when visiting Poughkeepsie. The presentation speech was made by Jacob Siebert and the gifts were received by each in a neat speech. In the afternoon there was an interesting game between the girls of the Yonkers High School and those of the Halstead School. The High School girls were victorious. The team of the Yonkers Athletic Club went to New-Britain Saturday afternoon, and in the evening were defeated by the New-Britain team.

There was a good attendance of members at the Baturday "Open Night," at the Yonkers Corinthian Yacht Club House, night before last. Although the regular course of winter entertainments has been brought to a close, these Saturday night affairs are kept up and are much enjoyed. No formal programme is carried out, but there is always some entertainment.

An entertainment in aid of the building fund of the First Reformed Church will be given in the auditorium in South Broadway, near Hudson-st., this evening. Montgomery Hunt Throop, of New-York City, will lecture on "Ben-Hur." In order to make the lecture within the reach of all, the price of admission has been fixed at 25 cents.

J. A. Rierdon, Grand Regent of the Royal Arcanum, accompanied by his staff, will make an official visit this evening to Yonkers Council. The local lodge has made preparations on a large scale for the reception of its guests. After the visitation a dinner will be given in their honor at the Getty House, and covers will be laid for about one hundred persons.

George Smith had an exciting experience yesterday afternoon. While driving a Shetland pony, which was attached to a dorcart, in which were Edward and Michael Cantwell, about four and six years old, respectively, the pony took fright in South Brondway, near the Getty Square station of the New-York and Putnam Rallroad, and ran away. Smith was unable to gain control of the animal, as he had only one arm free, the other being about the children to keep them from being thrown out. The animal ran through North Broadway to Dock-st, and started down an incline toward the river. At Nepperhan-st, the cart struck the drinking fountain there, but was not upset. The pony ran to the end of the street, crossed the tracks of the New-York Central Rallroad, and on to the Peene Brothers pler. It looked at one time as if the animal would plunge off the end of the pler, but by a great effort Smith was able to turn the horse into a shed. The occupants escaped injury, but the cart and harness were broken.

John Kemman, thirty-six years old, died at his home in the Boston Post Road on Friday. The funeral services were conducted yesterday by the Rev. F. F. German.

Preparations are being made by the New-York Wall Paper Company to place its large factory at this place in operation on April 1.

There is a very early demand for the summer cottages and mansions about Mamaroneck, and many of them at Orienta, Oakhurst and other favorable places on the Sound have already been rented for the season. Among the many who will probably spend the summer here are John D. Crimmins, Henry M. Flagler, Thomas F. Oakes, J. H. McDonough, William H. Constable, ex-Senator Thomas W. Two boys' chapters St. John's, of Yonkers, and Trinity, or Mount Vernon, also sent delegates. Among the guests were the Rev. John W. Buckmaster, of Tuckahoe; the Rev. S. T. Graham and the Rev. F. M. S. Taylor, of Mount Vernon, and the Rev. John Matthews, chaplain of St. Michael's Home, in Mamaroneck. The address of welcome was given by the Rev. Mr. Taylor, rector of the Church of the Ascension, and was followed by an address by the president, W. W. Lord, ir. of Mount Vernon. The remainder of the programme consisted of an address by A. Y. Van Amringe, of Mamaroneck, on "Individual Work"; the vice-president, W. H. Reid, of Tarrytown, on "Organized Work," and the report of the secretary, Marcus Hallett, of Mamaroneck. In the evening John M. Wood, general secretary of the Brotherhood, gave a long address, and a question-box was conducted by W. T. Hepper, of St. George's Chapter, New-York City. IRVINGTON.

The town election to-morrow will probably bring out the largest vote ever polled in Greenburg. Each ticket will be headed by a resident of this village-Irving M. Taylor and Adam Busch, the Republican and Democratic candidates for the office of Justice of the Peace. There is a strong contest being made this office only voters living outside of the different three candidates-James Lander, Republican, of Hartwisle: William E. Heady, Democrat, of Elms-Elmsford. There are also two questions to be sub-mitted to the voters—whether or not there shall mitted to the voters—whether or not there shall be reafter be elected in the town one or two Overseers of the Poor, and the question of local option. The latter has caused much anxiety among saloon-keepers, as the temperance advocates have enlisted a large number in their cause. Temperance organizations have been formed in Dobbs Ferry, Tarrytown and North Tarrytown, and in nearly silt the churches of the town sermons have been preached against licensing the saloons.

The Rev. Joseph H. Hayne, rector of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, is recovering from a severe illness.

Rather, she thought, it was only the beginning, and that vibrations out of the ether would be made perceptible that now are apparent only to the clairvoyant, who does not himself understand them. Science would pierce the world invisible with better vision, and see things nitherto confined to the domain of the occulist and the seer. Science is now teaching the path which leads to the ancient knowledge, that the invisible is the parent of the visible. Eventually, she said, every scientist would be a priest, and every priest a scientist, using their power not to dominate, but to serve mankind.
